Experience

- 2018–current Graduate Research Assistant, University of Groningen
- Designing optimization algorithms and feedback controllers that provide coordination among distributed selfish agents. Outcome: 2 journal and 2 conference publications
 - Obtained the “Dutch Institute for Systems and Control” certificate by passing 7 courses
 - Co-advised one MSc and 4 BSc students
- Spring 2019, '20, '21 Lecturer Assistant, University of Groningen
- Lecturer assistant for “Distributed Optimization in Engineering Systems”
- 2014–2018 Research Assistant, Tehran Polytechnic
- Designed learning algorithms using multiple models for accurate, rapid, and robust state estimation and control. Outcome: 3 journal and one conference publications
 - Devised intraoperative brain shift estimators based on Kalman filtering. Outcome: 2 journal publications
 - Developed an estimation scheme for parameters of synchronous generators. Outcome: one conference publication

Education

- 2018–2022 PhD in Applied Mathematics, ENTEG, University of Groningen, The Netherlands
(Expected) Dissertation topic: coordination of noncooperative agents in networked engineering systems
- 2011–2014 MSc in Control Engineering, Electrical Engineering Department, Tehran Polytechnic, Iran
Thesis: “Estimation of intra-operative brain shift for surgery path correction”
- 2007–2011 BSc in Electronics Engineering, Shamsipour College, Iran

Honors & Awards

- 2014 Best Researcher Award for exceptional achievements in brain shift estimation, Tehran Polytechnic, Iran
- 2011 Ranked Second among Electronics Engineering students of Shamsipour College in bachelor’s degree
- 2007 Ranked 19th (top 0.09%) in the nationwide college entrance exam in Electronics Engineering among more than 22,000 participants, Iran

Skills

- Scientific Optimization • Distributed algorithms • Adaptive learning • Nonlinear control • Game theory • Machine learning
- Computer MATLAB • Python • \LaTeX • HTML
